What are your favourite things you do in your spare time?

Playing Lego, riding my bike, playing with my dog.

What is your connection to Switzerland?

My grandparents are from Switzerland.

When did you, or a family member, come to New Zealand and why?
Grandad came in 1957 (50 years ago!) to learn English. He came with the immigration scheme on a boat and had a joiner job waiting for him in NZ. Grandma followed Grandad in 1960 and was one of the first to use the Wellington airport. Grandma came from Baden and Grandad from Langenthal and earlier Luzern.

When were you last in Switzerland?
I've never been to Switzerland.

What is your favourite Swiss food?
Chocolate and Fondue

What do you like about Switzerland?
I like the Swiss Club

In Focus: Octopus

The octopus belongs to the scientific class Cephalopoda, which means "head on feet". Cephalopods live in all the oceans and in most of Earth's seas, from shallow waters to depths of over 7'000 meters.

The "head" of an octopus is actually the main part of its body. It contains also the respiratory and digestive systems and the heart.

NEW SWISS

Newborns are joining the community of Swiss in New Zealand all the time. The Helvetia would be delighted to publish the names and photos of babies born to members of the Swiss clubs.

A BELL FOR URSLI

ILLUSTRATED BY ALOIS CARIGET

Text by Sonja Chöng

Ursli is a little boy who lives in the Swiss Alps. He must find a big cowbell so that he can lead the spring procession through his village, so he goes alone to his family's chalet high up in the mountains.

There, he spends a lonely, scary night...
