By the time the jumbo does take off with the stranded tourists, the coin boxes of these TelcaStar public payphones from ascom will have been emptied.

In the meantime the man in the Hawaiian shirt has plenty of time to finish his conversation and still call half his relations in the whole world. TelcaStar public payphones know how quickly the long-suffering passenger will fly – right off the handle – if the payphone breaks down too. Above all, they realize that in this business a full coin box is bad for business. So they report it in good time to the operating centre, who can then make a special trip – and it'll be worth their while – to the airport to empty the coin box.

And the TelcaStar specialists from Ascom Autelca will also be glad to go to the airport if you'd like to hear more about the ultramodern remote maintenance and management system TelcaStar MEMO and the equally modern public payphones TelcaStar COIN, TelcaStar CARD, TelcaStar DUET and TelcaStar DESK. You'll also learn how easy it is to move information with TelcaStar: with your MEMO System you can instantaneously access data such as the number of calls made, turnover and daily earnings.
