X PARTIAL UNEMPLOYMENT X
X AT THE CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES OF BASEL. X
X XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

The chemical industries in Basel and Schweizerhalle found that they were compelled to dismiss three hundred workers out of their total of seven thousand five hundred. Protest meetings were immediately organised and representations made in the Cantonal Parliament. Lately, business has been on the decline; this is mainly due to the fact that foreign countries are unable to procure the foreign exchange necessary to buy Swiss goods.

Stocks can be stored only in limited quantities. The large buildings that were erected last year, when business was favourable, are now standing empty. There are still approximately twice the number of workers employed in the chemical industry as there were before the war.

X PARTIAL REVISION OF THE X
X MILITARY COURT LAW AND MILITARY COURT REGULATIONS X
X XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

The Federal Council has presented a new Bill to Parliament regarding partial revision of the military court law and military court regulations, together with a special message. The Federal Council recalled that during the period of active service the handling of the military law was satisfactory in general, however, certain supplementations through martial law were necessary. Several of these regulations have to be transformed into common law. As is the case with civil law, the practice has been showing the necessity for the revision of certain provisions in order to treat individual cases more justly. Any alterations made in civil law should be considered by military law; other alterations are necessary on account of the alterations made in the organisation of the army. Particular attention is being paid to Articles 29 and 46 dealing with mitigation for acts committed under mental strain.

X THE PAYMENT OF GOLD. X
X XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

The Swiss National Bank informs as follows:-

Lately there have been communications in the press indicating that a gold release to the free market by the National Bank may be expected in the near future. It is right that the question of gold release in limited quantities has been dealt with in connection with the continuing liquefaction of the money market. Should a release of gold be decided upon, the National Bank would not fail to inform the public in good time.

X A FURTHER LIFTING OF PRICE CONTROL. X
X XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

The committee appointed to deal with the question of reviewing the price control has recommended the lifting of price control on various articles; based on these recommendations, the Federal Price Control Office lifted control on the following items: Textiles, Wood, Tobacco, Paper, Soap and Leather Articles, except Shoes. The regulations governing the marking of prices still remain.
