THE HOTEL INDUSTRY AND DEVALUATIONS.

The devaluation of the £stg. by 31% means that an English tourist travelling abroad would find his expenses increased by 40%. It is hoped, therefore, that English will abolish the quota system.

FRENCH-GERMAN COMMITTEE FOR BETTER UNDERSTANDING:

On September 29th, Federal Councillor Petitpierre, the Swiss Foreign Minister, received a delegation of a Committee for Better Understanding between France and Germany, which has been formed by delegations from cities of the two countries. As neutral President and mediator, the Swiss writers Eugen Wyler and Dr. Hans Zbinden are members of this Delegation. The task of the committee is to bring the outlook of the two peoples closer together. In Switzerland, which like any other small nation is greatly interested that Europe should be peacefully reconstructed, all possible assistance is given to this committee, and it is intended to institute a Swiss fund for inter-state understanding. Federal Councillor Petitpierre has encouraged all participating in futhering this work, for which much idealism and faith is needed.
