CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

If you want to make your services known to your fellow Swiss citizens, just send in some information about yourself giving type of service offered plus your name, address and telephone number. Keep the advertisement short (maximum 5 lines).

In order to defray costs and to remain fair to our display advertisers, a fee of $3.00 per advertisement is payable. Make your cheque out to the Swiss Society of New Zealand. If you wish your advertisement to appear in several consecutive issues, just let us know and adjust the amount of your cheque accordingly.

Please send in your copy by the 15th of the month for printing in the following issue.

EDITORIAL

We Swiss are the same as everyone else. We like to grumble about life in general, to criticize other people's actions as well as local and national Governments, to object to decisions made by the Authorities but, occasionally, to congratulate and praise other people or the Government too when the situation warrants it.

To all those Swiss who until now only had the chance to air their views around the "Jass" table, we offer a new column in Helvetia: The "Views from our Readers" column.

If you have anything of interest to bring to the notice of the Swiss community, this new column will be open to you. Write to the Editor and state your views, in a concise and straightforward way, on any subject likely to interest your compatriots in New Zealand.

A little note of warning though: In order not to get entangled in any possible legal argument, the Editor reserves the right to alter, shorten or disregard any contribution by readers that could lead to such disputes.

As long as you keep your contributions factual and your remarks right down to the point in a fair and objective way, we should have a very interesting column without falling into trash journalism so popular with certain tabloid newspapers.

So take advantage of this new column and let us have your views on any subject that may interest or bother you. The Editor looks forward to receiving your contributions.

Closing date for all contributions: 15th of each month. If we receive it by that date, your letter will appear in the following month's edition.
