RAMBLINGS IN BEAUTIFUL SURREY.

Summer has come at last, or at least we hope it has, and many of our countrymen will make a pilgrimage to some of the beauty spots in lovely Surrey.

Hampton Court has always attracted a good many Swiss, on account of its historical connections, as well as of its beautiful Park.

We take this opportunity to remind our readers and their friends, that one of our countrymen, M. P. Godenzi, is the owner of a tea establishment, called the Myrtle Cottage, facing Royal Palace and backing on to Bushey Park, we can heartily recommend this place; not for a long time have we tasted such delicious scones; of course, light luncheons are also served. You will not regret paying a visit to Myrtle Cottage.

Then there is Richmond, where boating is a big attraction, and, of course, there is the beautiful Park, in short an ideal place to spend a Saturday or Sunday amongst green trees and the silvery river.

So that nothing should be missing, here too, one of our compatriots, M. A. Jacomelli, is the proprietor of a Restaurant, called The Richmond, 30, The Quadrant, (opposite Railway Station); we had an opportunity to visit this place, and we were frankly astonished at the varied Menu, which can easily compete with many a Westend place. The establishment is fully licensed and the wines are of excellent qualities. On the Menu we saw an inscription "Venez et vous Reviez-drez," we shall certainly return, and we are convinced that those of our readers, who take our tip, will go back there after having set their foot once into the "Richmond" Restaurant. And do not forget in visiting the two establishments, you will nobly answer our slogan:
