Dr. Friedrich Schmitz, President of the Tri-bunal at Aarberg, has been appointed Chief of the Federal Military Insurance Department.

"HUNGER MARCHERS" IN SWITZERLAND.

A committee consisting of Socialists and Com. munists has invited the unemployed of the town of Bienne to a meeting.

After a prolonged discussion, it was decided to organise a march of the unemployed to Berne. Over 600 of the "sans travail" have agreed to take part in the march.

CIVIL AVIATION IN SWITZERLAND.

According to the latest statistics there are 84 According to the latest statistics there are 84 aeroplaness registered in the country, of which number 25 are commercial and 59 light machines. Of the latter, 36 are owned by private individuals, while 23 are the property of flying clubs. The oldest machine dates from 1923. There are no fewer than 23 makes to be found among them, including de Haviland, 18; Comte, 15; Klein, 11; Fokker, 9; Raab Katzenstein, 4, and Morane, 3. The aggregate engine rating covering 100 engines is given at approximately 15,400 h.p., the leading makes being British. In 1933 the Swiss Government expended makes being British. In 1933 the Swiss Government expended 557,000 francs in subsidies to air lines and 33,000 francs for the encouragement of sports flying. The Federal estimates for 1934 provide for an ex-penditure of 523,000 francs in subsidies, 42,000 frances for sports flying, 7,000 frances for flying grounds, and 120,000 frances for maintenance of aerodromes. The 1934 estimates of the Federal Det Office for allocations to the various air naviaerodromes. The 1934 estimates of the Federal Post Office for allocations to the various air navi-gation companies provide for an expenditure of 640,000 frances for air mail transport, at the rate of 30c. and 60c. per kilometre flown, according to the importance of the mail carried. As in past years, subsidies granted to foreign air navigation companies will be calculated in accordance with international agreements international agreements.

The Federal Council have decided to create a introduction, under the title of "Com-The Federal Council have decided to create a special organisation, under the title of "Com-mission d'études pour l'aéronautique à l'école polytechnique fédérale," for the purpose of pro-moting the development of aviation in Switzerland and of co-ordinating the activities of the various Government departments in matters relating to aviation. The new organisation will comprise members of the Federal Technical College, the Federal Military Department, and the Federal Department of Posts and Railways. SWISS GOLD LOSS.

The Swiss Rotional Bank last week lost Swiss frances 36,000,000 (£2,250,000 at current rates) from gold reserves, caused by continued with-drawats. At the same time the note circulation decreased by Swiss frances 36,500,000, so that the gold cover is practically unchanged at 92.86 per cont cent.

SWISS ELECTRICAL EXPORTS.

The exports of electrical apparatus and in-struments from Switzerland during the past year attained a value of £687,520, as compared with £659,920 in 1932.

PLANS FOR DEVELOPING USE OF THE B.I.S.

New plans for increasing the usefulness of the Bank for International Settlements, which was originally founded to handle the transfer of German reparations to Germany's creditors, are German reparations to Germany's creditors, are rapidly nearing maturity. One plan provides that the bank shall act as clearing house for all the postal administrations of the world. Germany and Switzerland have already agreed to this proposal, and it is hoped shortly to secure the assent of other countries. A similar arrangement in regard to inter-national railway accounts is also contemplated. New Zealand and Canada may, it is believed, shortly become shareholders of the bank, the capital of which is entirely held by governments, and open credits as soon as their currencies have been definitely stabilised.

EXPULSION OF FRANZ BURRI. J. Franz Burri, formerly editor of the "Auslandschweizer," which is published in Graz, has been expelled from Austria owing to antigovernment activity.

LOCAL. ZURICH.

M. Otto Karrer, Professor of Chemistry at the University in Zurich, has received the dignity of doctor honoris causa of the University of Madrid.

rid. The death is reported from Zurich of M. A. H. Hürlimann-Hirzel, at the age of 77. M. Hür-limann was "Seniorchef" of the well-known brewery firm Hürlimann. In the army he reached the rank of lieutenant-colonel; he was at one time Adjudant of the 3rd Army Corps.

LUCERNE. From Lucerne comes the news of the death of Dr. Emil Cattani, a noted nerve specialist, at the age of 74. BASLE.

the age of 74. EASLE. M. A. Morel-Vischer died of heart failure at Naples on the eve of embarking for a Mediterranean cruise. By his death the Basle banking world loses one of its most brilliant representatives. He was born in 1866, the son of the former Federal Judge Morel. He spent his youth at Lausanne, where he attended the schools, and afterwards entered the banking house of Masson in Lausanne as an apprentice. On the conclusion of his apprenticeship, he went to London (Swiss Bank Corporation) and Paris (Crédit Lyonnais), where he perfected his knowledge. In 1894 he entered the "Basler Handelsbank," of which institution he became manager four years later (1898). In 1914 he was appointed delegate of the board. M. Morel was also a director of the "Kredit und Industriebank," "Elektro-anlagen A.G.," "Schweiz Godenkredit-Anstalt," "Viege-Zermatt Bahn," "Gornergrat Bahn," and many foreign companies.

The 18th Basle Fair was opened last Satur-day. Dr. Meili, Manager of the Fair, received about 200 Swiss and foreign newspaper men. There are altogether 1,222 exhibitors (1933, 1,157), the rental of stalls producing 650,000 frs. (1933, 508,000 frs.), covering a surface of 30,000 square metros

GENEVA.

GENEVA. The Aero Club of Switzerland is organising under the patronage of the President of the Swiss Confederation, an International Show of Sport and Touring Aviation, to take place at Geneva, from April 27 to May 6. Switzerland, which, properly speaking, does not possess an aviation industry of its own, presents, however, an impor-tant market, and will attract all the interested circles in Europe and abroad. This aero show will take place in the Grand Palais des Expositions, Geneva, where the Inter-national Automobile Salon is held each year in the month of March. Important aerial displays are planned on this occasion.

M. Spahlinger, the father of the noted Swiss bacteriologist, has died in Geneva at the age of PRICE 3d.

Sacrifices were endured by Mr. Spahlinger, senior, and his wife, so that the research work of their brilliant son might not be hindered. As the work progressed, every building on the Spah-linger estate at Carouge was given up to research, and in time banks and other demanded securities for advance.

When the old gentleman was 72 he had the bitter experience of seeing his four life insurance policies sold, but he had unbounded faith in his poncies sold, but he had unbounded faith in his son. Now a stroke has ended his life. If ever a private and comparatively unknown individual deserves a statue to his memory, it is this Swiss parent, who sacrificed everything he possessed in order that his son might conquer that fell disease which claims hundreds of thou-hands of victims every year.

M. Isaak, a former municipal employee, was released a few days ago after serving a sentence in St. Antoine prison, Geneva, for political offences.

Now he has been appointed Governor of the prison by M. Nicole. M. Isaak was convicted of taking part in the Socialist riots in Geneva in November, 1932.

A conference of members of the Geneva Gov-ernment with the Federal Council has taken place in Berne on Tuesday last, in connection with the financial help which is solicited from the Federal Government.

SOLOTHURN.

M. Oscar Miller, manager of "Papierfabrik" Biberist, has died. He was known as one of the biggest collectors of pictures in Switzerland. His large collections comprised works of Giacometti, Hodler, Amiet, Auberjonois, Huber, Morgen-thaler, Berger, etc.

APPENZELL A.RH.

M. Christian Ruedi in Gais, a member of the cantonal government for 15 years, has expressed a wish to resign on the occasion of the next "Landsgemeinde."

ST. GALLEN.

Frau Keller-Giger, who died last December in St. Gallen, has left 175,000 frs. for charitable purposes.

SCHAFFHAUSEN.

The government of the canton of Schaff-hausen has made an appeal to their employees to spend their holidays in Switzerland, in order to help the hotel industry.

NIEDWALDEN.

The government of the canton Nidwalden has resigned in globo. The going out of office will be discussed at the next "Landsgemeinde." A violent Press campaign against the government, in connection with the Bannalp Electricity Works, is considered to be the chief reason for the re tirement.

GRISONS.

VALAIS.

VALMS. A smuggler had a miraculous escape from death when, during a desperate chase by frontier guards over the snow and ice of the Alps on the Italian border near Brig, he and a companion slipped over a sheer precipice. His companion fell 150 feet and was killed; he fell more than 200 feet and was found alive and comparatively unharmed. His fall had been broken by his knapsack catching on the rocky wall of the precipice.
