NEWS FROM THE SWISS NATIONAL TOURIST OFFICE.

Flying to Switzerland for Winter Sports.

It is now possible to travel to Switzerland throughout winter by regular, daily Air Service from any one of two dozen European centres. If you leave London at 9 a.m., or Rotterdam at 8.35 a.m., Antwerp 8.45 a.m., Brussels 9.15 a.m., and Paris 11 a.m., you can fly to Geneva (via Lyon), reaching this Swiss town at 3.10 p.m. From Geneva good trains will take you to the well-known winter resorts of the Vaud and Valais the same evening.

Aviators piloting their private machine are especially welcome in Switzerland. For them the air-ports of Basle, Zurich or Geneva are of first importance, as they have a regular Customs Service. If an airman notifies the Swiss Customs Office early enough before travelling, he can also land at the Berne, Lausanne or St. Gall air-ports. From any of the 6 Swiss air-ports fine circular flights can be made over the Alps, and planes can be hired by parties wishing to make such circular flights. Aviators desiring to land at a mountain resort, must make careful inquiries beforehand concerning the landing possibilities and the opportunities for garaging a plane at that place. The Swiss Air Police will give full information on these points.

At the present moment passengers can travel by the Fokker 'planes of the "Swissair" Co., from Zurich to St. Moritz. Pleasure flights, piloted by first-rate airmen, can be made from St. Moritz and from the air-ports of Switzerland.

RAILWAYS.

Fare Reductions for Visitors to IVth International Universities Winter Games, St. Moritz.

Single Tickets, which are valid for the return journey by Swiss railways, can be obtained by active competitors, Press correspondents, judges and time-keepers attending the International Universities Winter Games at St. Moritz on February 4-10th.

Such tickets are obtainable from January 26th to February 9th, while the return journey must be completed by February 19th. These reduced fares are only granted to persons showing an official invitation-card, which is signed by a member of the Committee of organisation.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tour of international Ski-jumpers.

A group of ski-runners from Norway, Germany and Switzerland are touring some of the Swiss Winter sports centres, where they are training in ski-jumping for next year's "Olympiade."

At Langenbruck near Basle, the Norwegian Birger Ruud did wonderful jumps in presence of 3,000 spectators, but was beaten by Reto Badrutt (St. Moritz).

A Sports Week of Swiss Aviation Officers is scheduled to be held in Arosa January 27th to February 3rd.

FOOTBALL.

20th January, 1935.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Servette	2	Biel	1
Lausanne	4	Young Boys	4
Lugano	4	Carouge	0
Basel	4	Nordstern	1
Grasshoppers	4	Concordia	2
Bern	0	Young Fellows	1

Chaux-de-Fonds v. Locarno postponed.

Servette, the champions, now have a clear lead of two points over Lausanne, who could only draw with Young Boys; a good performance on the part of the Y. B. The first five positions remain as last week, but Young Fellows displace Bern from sixth place by virtue of their victory. No change at the end of the table.

Next Sunday Switzerland is to meet Germany in Stuttgart. All tickets have been sold and a record crowd is expected. A running commentary is to be broadcast. All this week the German team is in the hands of their national trainer Nerz, in Stuttgart. A sure sign how seriously they regard these international matches across the Rhine. I am afraid we are just as bad, if bad it be. Had we the money and the time to spare, our Reds would also have a week's special training. As it is, they have to be content with a few trial matches, under floodlight, in Zurich. Well, well! In my younger days, we used to play football for the sheer pleasure of it. And the international matches were keenly contested; but no one ever thought that the honour and prestige of his country would be besmirched by a defeat on the playing field. Perhaps I am just old-fashioned, unable to march on with the times, who knows —
