According to the "New York Herald" the National Bank of Switzerland has banned the export of gold bars.

Bankers said the object of the ban was to prevent the dumping of finance dollars into the free dollar market in Switzerland.

The official rate on the American dollar is 4.31 Swiss francs. Under complex currency regulations, the finance dollar rate has varied during the last year from 3.15 to 3.95 Swiss francs, and at present is around 3.74.

The official rate of 4.31 is used in the purchase of commodities.

Bankers said that there had developed a lucrative business of buying Swiss gold bars, shipping them to the Far Eastern countries, notably India, for sale for dollars.

The dollars thus acquired were used in the purchase of Swiss francs on the free dollar market.

Switzerland by undermining the determination of the Swiss to maintain their neutrality under arms.

During the war the German Legation in Berne made representations on Press matters to the Federal Government on 169 occasions. The report says that the British Legation in Berne conducted a Press service but this differed from that of the Germans, in that it was mainly informative and designed to take the place of English newspapers when Switzerland was cut off.

The authorities refrained from intervening against it, partly for reasons of equality of treatment, and partly because it acted as a counter-weight to German and Italian propaganda. "The Legation bulletins in fact were equivalent to the war-time publication of an English newspaper, a case without precedent in Press relationships."

According to informed quarters Switzerland recently declined to grant additional credits to Spain and insisted that future sales to Spain be made on a cash and carry basis.

The Swiss Government has lodged a strong protest with the Bulgarian Government concerning recent happenings in connection with the exchange of Bulgarian banknotes.

Contrary to diplomatic etiquette, Bulgarian officials demanded the right to inspect the accounts of the Swiss Legation in Sofia; when this was refused, the Legation was put under police supervision, and in-and-out-going visitors had to undergo police inspection.

The Swiss Minister in Sofia, Monsieur Charles de Jenner, who is well-known in the London Colony, at once protested vigorously against such unseemly proceedings to the Bulgarian Foreign Minister, with the result that the control was lifted.

The Swiss Foreign Minister has informed the Bulgarian Minister in Berne, that his government takes a serious view about the way in which their officials were treated.

As the nationalisation of the railways in this country is at present a topical subject, it is of interest to know the result of the nationalisation of the Swiss Railways which took place in the last century.

In matters of traffic, party politics do not play any part. In 1898, for instance when the Swiss private railways were being nationalised, middle-class parties were all in favour of the nationalisation. The voting was under the slogan: "No more foreign capital influences; co-operation of consigners and public; uniform tariffs for the whole country based on the lowest existing tariffs; and peaceful working with the staff."

At the voting on the financial reconstruction in 1945, as had been the case in 1898, there was a strong majority in favour of the Swiss Federal Railways. Nobody spoke of turning them again into a private enterprise. The extent of the reforms and various simplifications were the only points under discussion. The chief object aimed at was the recognition of the charges unduly imposed upon the railways. Therefore, 900 million of the Swiss Federal Railways' debts were taken over by the State, which created also a fr. 400-million working capital with variable interest, which acts as a share capital.

Nothing was changed in the legal position of the Swiss Federal Railways: they still enjoy a wide autonomy; they are not incorporated into the central administration; they have their own administration, and a general management with three divisional managements, according to the Swiss federalistic principles. Parliament's control of the budget, of the annual report, of the working hours law, and of the staff statute were outside the discussion.

There is no reason to speak of Parliament's interference in railway construction or working. As it is, Parliament's influences are neutralised by public and press criticism. It is just as false to pretend that railway syndicates form a sort of rival Government. Sometimes they do not agree with the Government, but this is quite normal. Moreover, there are joint committees of the administration and the staff, which play a consultative part. Besides, the staff has a representative on the board of administration. This has had very good results, as the Swiss Federal Railways enjoyed peaceful working, no strikes, and excellent co-operation on all the lines.

The tariffs and the time-table present ample evidence of the benefits of nationalisation. Let us recall here that since 1944 the tariffs have been raised only by 7 per cent., though the cost of living is more than 50 per cent. higher. Increased traffic and accelerated electrification contributed to the much appreciated stability of the tariffs.

The nationalisation of the railways raises no problem in Switzerland, and nobody criticises it. The Swiss people are satisfied with their electrified and up-to-date railways, and the Centenary year 1947 will show how much they appreciate their national means of communication.

SWISS CONCERN TO ERECT FACTORY AT WEYMOUTH.

On Friday, March 8th, a ceremony took place at the Lynch Lane industrial site at Weymouth, when a building plot was officially handed over by the Vice-Chairman of the Industry Committee, Councillor J. Connor, to Mr. G. E. De Brunner, of Messrs. De Brunner & Lang Sims, in the presence of Weymouth's Mayor (Alderman C. H. J. Kaile) who is, no doubt, the first Mayor ever to arrive at an official function in a helicopter.

This machine was flown from Portland to the industrial site by Lieut. W. Reed, who recently landed on the quarter deck of the battleship Vanguard in mid-Channel when the King and Queen started on their voyage to South Africa. The Mayor, wearing his chain of office, on stepping from the machine, was greeted by Mr. De Brunner, the Swiss owner of the first factory to be built on the new industries site.

Accepting the site, Mr. De Brunner expressed his thanks for the warmth of the reception and acknowledged what hard work must have been put into the scheme by the committee. He felt particularly pleased that his firm had been fortunate enough to be concerned in this pioneer work. Having thanked the Corporation for their splendid co-operation in the trying circumstances, he assured his listeners that Colonel Adamson, the architect and Mr. Frank Eve, the works contractor, would do all in their power to get the factory completed in quick time.

After the pronouncement of the Blessing by the Mayor's Chaplain (Rev. E. L. Langton) the company adjourned to the Gloucester Hotel where they were guests of Messrs. De Brunner & Lang Sims at a luncheon during which speeches were made by the Mayor, who acted as Chairman, and who called upon Councillor Wells to make a presentation of a silver cigarette box to Mr. De Brunner to mark the occasion. Acknowledging the gift the latter hoped the cordiality of the welcome extended to him might be taken as a symbol of the good will extended to them as newcomers to the district.

During lunch orchestral music was provided by a small trio led by Mrs. Delphie Morgan.

UP-TO-DATE EPISTLES.

We are indebted to a subscriber for the following amusing example of present-day correspondence:—

Dear Sir,

For the following reason I regret I cannot send you a cheque.

I have been held up, held down, sand-bagged — walked upon, sat upon, flattened out and squeezed by the Income Tax, the Super Tax, the Luxury Tax, the E.P.T. Tax, the Tobacco, Beer, Spirits, Motor Tax and by every society, organisation and Club that the inventive mind of man can think of to extract what I may or may not have in my possession for the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the Iron Cross, the Double Cross and every Hospital in town and country.

The Government has governed my business till I do not know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined and re-examined, required and commanded, so that I do not know who I am, where I am or why the H!!! I am here still.

All I know is that I am supposed to be an inexhaustible supply of money for every new desire or hope of the human race, and because I will not go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away, I am cursed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked at, lied to, lied about, held up, rung up, robbed and damn near ruined.

The only reason I cling to life is to see what the H!!! is going to happen next.

Yours, X.Y.Z.
