Monsieur José Luis Archer, Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary of the Republic of Portugal, has presented his credentials to Monsieur R. Rubattel, President of the Confederation and Monsieur M. Petitpierre, Swiss Foreign Minister.

The Swiss Government has intimated that a visit to Geneva by the loyalty board of the United States Congress to inquire into the political past of United States citizens serving in the European office of the United Nations and other international organizations would not be in keeping with Swiss sovereignty.

The board is carrying out similar inquiries in Rome and Paris, also the headquarters of international organizations. It is believed that the board intended to call before it about 30 United States citizens. These will now be asked to appear before it at Lyons. Hr. Hammarskjöld, the Secretary-General of the United Nations, has said that the inquiry might be helpful in enabling an official against whom insinuation had been made to clarify his attitude.

The Swiss authorities have taken a different view from that of Mr. Hammarskjöld. When they learned on the basis of Press reports from Washington of the intention of the board to visit Geneva they informed Miss Frances Willis, the Ambassador in Berne, that to hold such an inquiry on Swiss territory would be an infringement of sovereign rights.

The board usually holds its sitting in the United States, but officials serving with international organizations abroad complained that they could not leave their posts to travel home to appear before it. For this reason the board, which has no power to compel a person to attend, decided to hold its sittings in Europe. No formal request was made for it to conduct its inquiries in Switzerland, so that there is no question, technically, of a refusal by the Government to allow it to come here. At the same time, the implications of the Swiss attitude are plain.

DER BUNDESBRIEF VON 1291.

(Gekürzte Uebersetzung aus dem lateinischen Urtext)

Im Namen Gottes Amen.

Wir, die Landleute von Uri, von Schwyz und von Unterwalden geloben und schwören, angesichts der bösen Zeit und zu besserem Schutz und Schirm, einander beizustehen mit Rat und Tat, mit Leib und Gut, mit gesamer Macht und Kraft, wider alle und jede, die uns Gewalt und Unrecht tun.

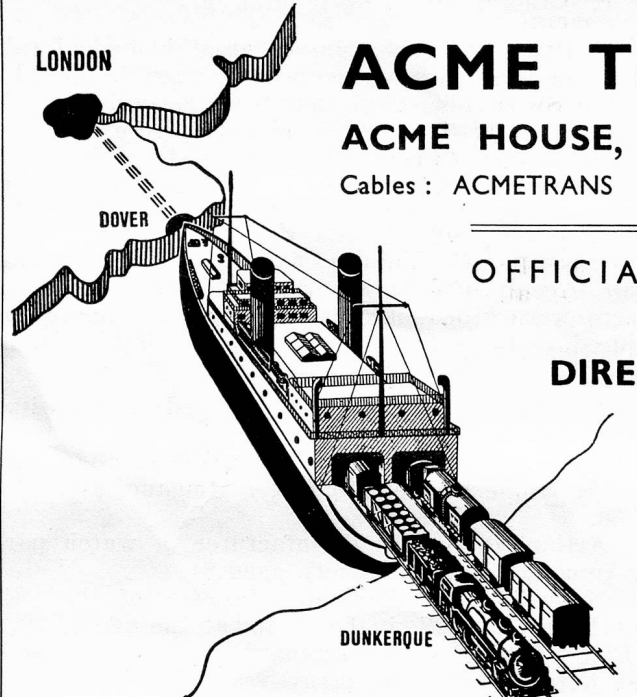

Einhellig versprechen und geloben wir einander, keine fremden Richter in unsern Täler zu dulden.

Und niemand schädige den andern an Leben und Gut. Wer aber Schuld auf sich geladen, leiste Genug-tung.

Entsteht Unfrieden zwischen Eidgenossen, so sol-len die Besten unter uns zusammentreten und ihn schlichten.

Unsere Bundessatzungen, zum Wohl aller geord-net, sollen, mit Gottes Hilfe, ewig dauern.

Geschehen im Jahre des Herrn eintausend zwei-hundert ein und neunzig, zu Anfang des Monates August.
