SWISS CLUB TORQUAY.

The Swiss Club, Torquay, held their annual Christmas Party at Callards Café, which proved to be a most enjoyable function.

Following tea, party games were played, about 40 people joining into the full party spirit. Two humorous items, entitled "The Saleswoman" and "The Marketwoman" were given by Fräulein Neuerschwander, which added considerable enjoyment to a most successful evening.

Mrs. Hoare, Mrs. Green and Fräulein Heckendorn are to be congratulated for organising such a full evening.

Although the Club has been functioning for several years, the publicity of the Christmas Party has aroused the interest of the Swiss Colony in Torquay and consequently a special meeting was held on February 2nd with the view of putting the Club in an official capacity. A further meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 9th, when we hope to discuss the election of Officers and organising a full programme for the coming months.

We invite Secretaries from other Clubs who can help us in any way to write to Mr. Kempton, 89, Sherwell, Valley Road, Torquay.

We hope to report the resolutions of our meeting in one of the next issues of the "Swiss Observer".

SWISS MALE CHOIR.

The Swiss Male Choir is holding a "Gemütlicher Abend", on Friday, March 4th, at the "Schweizerbund" (Swiss Club), 74, Charlotte Street, W.1, to which they cordially invite their active and passive members and friends.

An interesting feature of the occasion will be the showing of a selection of films of really remarkable Swiss views made available by the Swiss National Tourist Office.

As customary, the Choir will render a selection of songs interspersed with solo items, and there will be dancing to the music of the Swiss Accordion Club.

The cost of the Dinner, exclusive of drinks, will be 12/6 each. As accommodation is limited, it will be advisable to apply early for reservation direct to the Steward of the "Schweizerbund" (Swiss Club), 74, Charlotte Street, W.1.

CONCERT NEWS.

We wish to direct the attention of our readers to the Symphony Concert given by the Wembley Symphony Orchestra, on Sunday, February 27th, at Wembley Town Hall (see advertisement).

Ruth Huggenberg will be the soloist in Rachmaninoff's piano concerto No. 2.

We sincerely hope that many of our readers will go and hear our compatriot, who is a very distinguished artiste. Ruth Huggenberg is no stranger to the Colony, nor to the music lovers of this country, she has given recitals at Wigmore and other concert halls, and on many occasions has given support, free of charge, to a number of Swiss functions. One good turn deserves another.
