Braid Manufacturers and Weaving Works

WOHLEN

This well-known firm of the Argovian braid and plait manufacturing industry, which has presented several novelties in hat and shoe braids and woven fabrics in previous numbers of this journal, is celebrating its 90th birthday this year.

The small building (upper left-hand illustration) was used both as a private residence and as business premises by the founders of the firm whose initiative in the early days led to the establishment of world-wide connections.

To-day, in the picturesque village of Wohlen, the firm occupies the various modern premises shown on this page. Many busy, capable hands are employed in manufacturing, while other members of the staff constantly create new samples and models, which, after various tests and experiments, are sent to the far corners of the earth.
